

What Our Leaders are Saying...

"YWA has impacted my life, Christian worldview and leadership skills by offering me a support group that upholds my conservative values."

Chelsea Andrews, YWA Chapter President at Liberty University

"YWA has empowered me to teach not only the thirty young women in my chapter, but also my children and every woman I meet about YWA's core issues and how they can make a difference. I want to impress upon them the importance for us to stand up as the next generation to lead our country for our religious freedom, Biblical worldview and to care about what Jesus cared about."

Leesha Newkirk-Crouch, YWA Chapter President at Ave Maria School of Law

"YWA has provided a much needed outlet to publicly express my values as an underrepresented conservative woman. I am excited to see how YWA will continue to encourage other women to be vocal about their beliefs on my college campus and universities around the nation, no matter how much society persuades them to do otherwise. "

Monique Claiborne, YWA Chapter President at Princeton University
