

Convention of the States forum

A proposed Convention of the States (SCR21) passed in the Missouri Senate by a vote of 26-5. Time ran out before SCR21 could be brought up for a vote in the House. SCR21 submits application to Congress for the calling of an Article V Convention of the States to propose certain amendments to the U.S. Constitution which place limits on the federal government.

Is proposing a convention of the states to propose amendments to our U.S. Constitution a good idea?

We want to give the people of Missouri a chance to learn about this movement to call for a Convention of the States. Therefore, Concerned Women for America of Missouri is holding public forums around the state to do just this. At each of the forums, there will be a person who will make a presentation in favor of such a call and a person who will make a presentation against such a call. It will conclude with a time of questions and answers. Please make plans now to join us for this event.

Is this the answer for which those who are fed up with the out of control federal government are looking?
