DANA HODGES APPOINTED STATE DIRECTOR FOR CONCERNED WOMEN FOR AMERICA

Washington, D.C. – Concerned Women for America (CWA) is thrilled to announce the selection of Dana Hodges as State Director for Concerned Women for America of Texas. CWA state directors represent the national organization, direct state-wide efforts and serve as volunteer leaders for CWA’s activists within the state. Dana has served as Associate State Director for the last two years under the faithful leadership of former State Director Ann Hettinger, and as Ann steps down, Dana is now stepping into this new role.

As Texas’s new State Director, Dana will work with the members in the state to organize additional Prayer/Action Chapters, coordinate CWA's grassroots activities in legislation and media and recruit new members. Regarding her new role, Dana had this to say, “I am humbled by this opportunity to lead this amazing group of advocates in the great state of Texas. I am excited to see what God is going to do through CWA of Texas.”

CWA’s goals are to preserve the eternal values that support the Biblical design of the family, protect innocent life at all stages, fight pornography and obscenity, tackle the declining quality of education, support the rights of individuals to pray and worship without persecution, and increase support for Israel, our strongest ally in the Middle East.

“CWA is confident Texas will benefit from Dana Hodges’ willingness to serve others by providing trustworthy leadership as the State Director of CWA of Texas. Her efforts will promote thoughtful and moral policies that build a strong foundation for Texas families,” stated Penny Nance, CEO and President of Concerned Women for America.

Beverly LaHaye founded CWA in 1979. Since that time, CWA has become the nation’s largest public policy women’s organization with hundreds of thousands of members across the nation. Its mission is to protect and promote Biblical values among all citizens; first through prayer, then education, and finally by influencing our society, thereby reversing the decline in moral values in our nation.

Dana Hodges can be contacted by phone at (409) 779-3632 or e-mail at director@texas.cwfa.org.
