

CWA of California Update

July 19, 2005

We're Up and Running Again!

If you checked our Web site in recent days, you probably found that some of the links weren't working and our "Targeted Bill" list was very out of date. We apologize for that inconvenience. Some problems with our server caused us to lose some recently posted information, but we're glad to report that the situation has now been resolved.

Legislative Update

Even though the California legislature is now in recess until August 15, we're not taking a break!

The major issue next month will be the same-sex "marriage" bill that was resurrected and will be heard in Senate Appropriations on August 15. If passed, it will head quickly to the floor where the vote will be close.

Because of the vital nature of this and other key measures, it is important to share our concerns with our elected representatives even during this "break" while they are in their home districts. Plan to make an appointment with them or attend town hall meetings and other events where you can encourage your elected leaders to stand for marriage, life and other Biblical values.

As always, thank you for making a difference!
