

Special Speakers

Matt Barber is the Policy Director for Cultural Issues at Concerned Women for America. In addition to a law degree, Matt holds a Master of Arts in Public Policy from Regent University. Many newspapers and online publications run his columns, and he has appeared on the Fox News Channel, MSNBC, and dozens of talk radio programs. Mr. Barber has a background in political campaigns, the military, law enforcement and fraud investigation. As a former undefeated professional boxer, he's now taken his fight to the ring of public policy. Mr. Barber handles many topics, including the homosexual agenda, marriage, family, media, religious freedom, judicial activism and constitutional matters.

Robert G. Natelson is a professor at the University of Montana. Professor Natelson teaches Constitutional Law, Legal history, Advanced Constitutional Law, and a seminar on the First Amendment. He is a recognized national expert on the framing and adoption of the United States Constitution. He has written for some of the nation's most prestigious academic journals and his work is frequently cited in top Journals, such as Harvard Law Review, Yale Law Journal and Georgetown Law Journal. He also edits the web page, "The Scholarship of the Original Understanding of the Constitution."

Make A Difference

Join us at the DoubleTree Hotel along the beautiful Clark Fork River in Missoula Montana for an exciting time of fellowship, education, and interaction with like-minded people who want to protect our family heritage, freedom of religion and national sovereignty.

We will be discussing...

- How we arrived at this pivotal period in our culture - and what we can do now
- “Sexual orientation” and religious freedom at odds in America
- The importance of selecting Supreme Court justices who have proven records of supporting the Constitution’s actual text and meaning.
- Bidding good- bye to America’s national sovereignty
- What CWA of Montana is doing in our state and nation to influence our culture for Biblical values through prayer and action

You will leave better equipped to be an influencer in your family, community, state and nation. Make your reservation today!
