

Just a Minute with Concerned Women

Protecting Our Country in an Uncertain World

[CWA Chief Executive Officer, Penny Nance]

Hello, I'm Penny Young Nance, CEO of Concerned Women for America.

Were your kids as shaken as mine by the terrorist attack on 9/11? They just couldn't understand how people could be so evil and I'm not sure I understand it either.

But I do know that God is a God of love; that evil exists in this world; and that both Biblical and Constitutional principles demand that we protect our families and our freedom to share the Good News in Christ.

So, it's important that our leaders get National Security right.

Concerned Women for America is working to hold our nation's leaders accountable for the protection of your family and mine.

Whatever we may think of the President's policies, please join me in praying for our leaders to make good choices to protect our nation and our families.

[Announcer]

This message has been brought to you by Concerned Women for America. Visit us at www.cwfa.org. That's cwfa.org.