

Vote Your Values – Value Your Vote

Important Primary Election
at your regular polling place.

Tuesday, June 14, 2005
6:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Both the Democratic and Republican Parties are holding a primary election on the second Tuesday in June to determine their respective candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general or the House of Delegates. All registered voters will be able to choose to vote in either the Democratic or Republican Primary when they go the polls on June 14.

Your participation in primary elections helps to ensure candidates who share your values will be on the ballot in November 2005. Why does it matter? Because:

-) The next governor will appoint 3500 positions influencing all areas of state government, in addition to proposing the state budget and signing legislation.
-) The next lieutenant governor will likely run for Governor four years later.
-) The attorney general defends Virginia's laws when challenged in court.
-) The next House of Delegates will vote on as many as 2500 bills during the two month long General Assembly Session.

For candidate links, or to learn about your district on the Web, please visit: <http://Virginia.cwfa.org> or call 703-444-1740.

Vote Your Values – Value Your Vote

Important Primary Election
at your regular polling place.

Tuesday, June 14, 2005
6:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Both the Democratic and Republican Parties are holding a primary election on the second Tuesday in June to determine their respective candidates for governor, lieutenant Governor, attorney general or the House of Delegates. All registered voters will be able to choose to vote in either the Democratic or Republican Primary when they go the polls on June 14.

Your participation in primary elections helps to ensure candidates who share your values will be on the ballot in November 2005. Why does it matter? Because:

-) The next governor will appoint 3500 positions influencing all areas of state government, in addition to proposing the state budget and signing legislation.
-) The next lieutenant governor will likely run for governor four years later.
-) The attorney general defends Virginia's laws when challenged in court.
-) The next House of Delegates will vote on as many as 2500 bills during the two month long General Assembly Session.

For candidate links, or to learn about your district on the Web, please visit: <http://Virginia.cwfa.org> or call 703-444-1740.

Vote Your Values – Value Your Vote

Important Primary Election
at your regular polling place.

Tuesday, June 14, 2005
6:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Both the Democratic and Republican Parties are holding a primary election on the second Tuesday in June to determine their respective candidates for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General or the House of Delegates. All registered voters will be able to choose to vote in either the Democratic or Republican Primary when they go the polls on June 14.

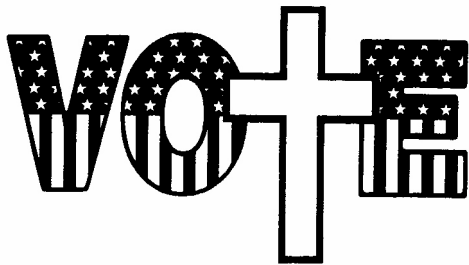

Your participation in primary elections helps to ensure candidates who share your values will be on the ballot in November 2005. Why does it matter? Because:

-) The next governor will appoint 3500 positions influencing all areas of state government, in addition to proposing the state budget and signing legislation.
-) The next lieutenant governor will likely run for Governor four years later.
-) The attorney general defends Virginia's laws when challenged in court.
-) The next House of Delegates will vote on as many as 2500 bills during the two month long General Assembly Session.

For candidate links, or to learn about your district on the Web, please visit: <http://Virginia.cwfa.org> or call 703-444-1740.

Concerned Women for America of Virginia
P.O. Box 1101
Sterling, VA 20167

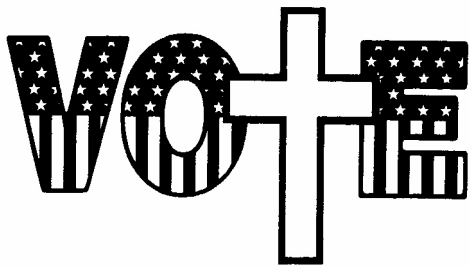

VOTE YOUR VALUES

VALUE YOUR VOTE

Concerned Women for America of Virginia
P.O. Box 1101
Sterling, VA 20167

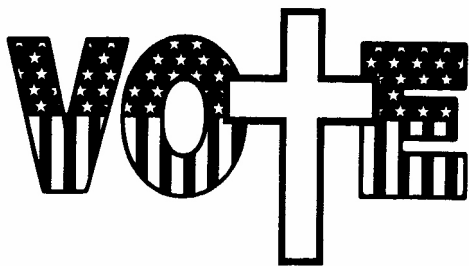

VOTE YOUR VALUES

VALUE YOUR VOTE

Concerned Women for America of Virginia
P.O. Box 1101
Sterling, VA 20167

VOTE YOUR VALUES

VALUE YOUR VOTE