Concerned Women for America of Texas Outraged by Planned Parenthood's Greed – Calls for Defunding

Austin, TX – Today at a State Capitol press conference following the Texas Senate Health and Human Services committee on Planned Parenthood practices, CWA of Texas State Director Ann Hettinger made it clear that women and children are in constant danger when they are being treated by abortion doctors who blatantly display their seared consciences.

Over seventy years ago, Americans were introduced to unbelievable atrocities happening to fellow human beings in a foreign country. We reveled in American ideals because we were confident such inhuman conduct would never happen here. Now, it has come to America.

Today we have seen greedy abortionists preying on the misfortunes of women to line their pockets and totally disregarding the sanctity of human life and the lives of these unborn babies. In prior legislative sessions, our legislators have wisely redirected tax funds formerly provided to Planned Parenthood to medical centers capable of truly caring for the health of women and children. We are so thankful that our legislators had the foresight to make that change. It is time for the federal government to do the same.

"How many times must Americans catch Planned Parenthood with their hands in the cookie jar, before they say, 'Enough! No more taxpayer funds for you!'" stated Ann Hettinger, State Director of Concerned Women for America of Texas.

Concerned Women for America of Texas thanks Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick, Dr. Charles Schwertner, Chairman of the Senate Health and Human Services Committee, and the members of that committee for holding this interim hearing. CWA of Texas will continue to be a part of the process as the committee seeks ways to further protect and honor innocent human life in Texas.
