

Feisty & Feminine Workshop

Topic: Dispelling fear and encouraging diplomacy when interacting with those of the Muslim faith

Monday, April 30 2018

7:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

Lawrence Public Library
707 Vermont Street
Lawrence, KS 66044

Women, men, and teens are all welcome and encouraged to attend.

Concerned Women for America (CWA) is the nation's largest public policy women's organization with a rich history of helping our participants across the country bring Biblical principles into all levels of public policy.

Feisty & Feminine Workshops is a project of CWA of Kansas and is based on CWA's CEO and President Penny Nance's book, Feisty & Feminine: A rallying cry for conservative women. These workshops teach women and men to speak with authority and engage with a redemptive message. Potential workshop topics mimic the chapters of Nance's book, such as: The Devaluation of Women, Marriage and True Tolerance, Abortion and the Sanctity of Life, Debunking the Wage Gap, Beyond Our Borders (Why Israel Matters to Christians), and The Rise of Islam Extremism and the Need to Fight Back.

As the Islamic population continues to grow in the Lawrence area, it is important as believers that we be informed about the current practices of those within the Muslim faith.

Join us for a frank panel discussion.

Dr. Dawlat Bishara and Dr. Safwat Bishara: The Bishara's were both born and raised in Egypt. As Coptic Christians, they were friends with Muslims. Their concern is that Americans may not understand the danger of Islamic extremists. They tend to be either too accepting or too fearful of Islam.

Peggy Mast, former-Speaker Pro Tem. Peggy will lay out for us the law that protects Kansans in courts and agencies from other international laws that aim to override U.S. laws. She will inform us on how the Muslim faith is strategically installing their laws and beliefs around the world.

Barbara Saldivar, State Director of CWA of Kansas. Barbara will present CWA's positions on this growing topic.

We are called to live without fear and use wisdom when reaching out to our Muslim neighbors. Join us to find out how.
