

Know Your Rights ...

Freedom of Speech & Religion in Public Schools

“It can hardly be argued that either students or teachers shed their constitutional rights to freedom of speech or expression at the schoolhouse gate.” - Supreme Court of the United States, Tinker v. Des Moines Independent Community School District

At school you can . . .

- ✓ Exercise your right to free speech, unless you create a substantial disruption to school activities. That includes the expression of your religious beliefs in discussions and assignments. All speech must be treated equally.
- ✓ Read your Bible during free time and share your faith with others, including through printed material. Again, any policy restricting printed material must apply to all material and not be aimed at religious material only.

Know Your Rights ...

Freedom of Speech & Religion in Public Schools

“It can hardly be argued that either students or teachers shed their constitutional rights to freedom of speech or expression at the schoolhouse gate.” - Supreme Court of the United States, Tinker v. Des Moines Independent Community School District

At school you can . . .

- ✓ Exercise your right to free speech, unless you create a substantial disruption to school activities. That includes the expression of your religious beliefs in discussions and assignments. All speech must be treated equally.
- ✓ Read your Bible during free time and share your faith with others, including through printed material. Again, any policy restricting printed material must apply to all material and not be aimed at religious material only.

Know Your Rights ...

Freedom of Speech & Religion in Public Schools

“It can hardly be argued that either students or teachers shed their constitutional rights to freedom of speech or expression at the schoolhouse gate.” - Supreme Court of the United States, Tinker v. Des Moines Independent Community School District

At school you can . . .

- ✓ Exercise your right to free speech, unless you create a substantial disruption to school activities. That includes the expression of your religious beliefs in discussions and assignments. All speech must be treated equally.
- ✓ Read your Bible during free time and share your faith with others, including through printed material. Again, any policy restricting printed material must apply to all material and not be aimed at religious material only.

Know Your Rights ...

Freedom of Speech & Religion in Public Schools

“It can hardly be argued that either students or teachers shed their constitutional rights to freedom of speech or expression at the schoolhouse gate.” - Supreme Court of the United States, Tinker v. Des Moines Independent Community School District

At school you can . . .

- ✓ Exercise your right to free speech, unless you create a substantial disruption to school activities. That includes the expression of your religious beliefs in discussions and assignments. All speech must be treated equally.
- ✓ Read your Bible during free time and share your faith with others, including through printed material. Again, any policy restricting printed material must apply to all material and not be aimed at religious material only.

- ✓ Wear clothing or jewelry that displays religious messages within the school dress code.
- ✓ Have student-led prayer during non-instructional times and at school functions.
- ✓ Form religious clubs, enjoying the same access as any other school club.
- ✓ Be exempted from any activity that violates your religious convictions.
- ✓ Celebrate or observe a religious holiday within the same guidelines as any other holiday.

- ✓ Wear clothing or jewelry that displays religious messages within the school dress code.
- ✓ Have student-led prayer during non-instructional times and at school functions.
- ✓ Form religious clubs, enjoying the same access as any other school club.
- ✓ Be exempted from any activity that violates your religious convictions.
- ✓ Celebrate or observe a religious holiday within the same guidelines as any other holiday.

- ✓ Wear clothing or jewelry that displays religious messages within the school dress code.
- ✓ Have student-led prayer during non-instructional times and at school functions.
- ✓ Form religious clubs, enjoying the same access as any other school club.
- ✓ Be exempted from any activity that violates your religious convictions.
- ✓ Celebrate or observe a religious holiday within the same guidelines as any other holiday.

- ✓ Wear clothing or jewelry that displays religious messages within the school dress code.
- ✓ Have student-led prayer during non-instructional times and at school functions.
- ✓ Form religious clubs, enjoying the same access as any other school club.
- ✓ Be exempted from any activity that violates your religious convictions.
- ✓ Celebrate or observe a religious holiday within the same guidelines as any other holiday.

But remember ...

- Be respectful. Follow instructions at all times and ask to talk to someone in the principal's office if you believe your rights are being violated.
- If you have any questions, contact Concerned Women for America by visiting our website at cwfa.org.

NOTE: This is not intended to be legal advice.

For more information go to cwfa.org/wp-content/uploads/2015/08/RPS.pdf.

Concerned Women for America
P.O. Box 34300
Washington, D.C. 20043
ConcernedWomen.org
202-488-7000

But remember ...

- Be respectful. Follow instructions at all times and ask to talk to someone in the principal's office if you believe your rights are being violated.
- If you have any questions, contact Concerned Women for America by visiting our website at cwfa.org.

NOTE: This is not intended to be legal advice.

For more information go to cwfa.org/wp-content/uploads/2015/08/RPS.pdf.

Concerned Women for America
P.O. Box 34300
Washington, D.C. 20043
ConcernedWomen.org
202-488-7000

But remember ...

- Be respectful. Follow instructions at all times and ask to talk to someone in the principal's office if you believe your rights are being violated.
- If you have any questions, contact Concerned Women for America by visiting our website at cwfa.org.

NOTE: This is not intended to be legal advice.

For more information go to cwfa.org/wp-content/uploads/2015/08/RPS.pdf.

Concerned Women for America
P.O. Box 34300
Washington, D.C. 20043
ConcernedWomen.org
202-488-7000

But remember ...

- Be respectful. Follow instructions at all times and ask to talk to someone in the principal's office if you believe your rights are being violated.
- If you have any questions, contact Concerned Women for America by visiting our website at cwfa.org.

NOTE: This is not intended to be legal advice.

For more information go to cwfa.org/wp-content/uploads/2015/08/RPS.pdf.

Concerned Women for America
P.O. Box 34300
Washington, D.C. 20043
ConcernedWomen.org
202-488-7000