

Intern Housing Resource

CWA does not provide housing for interns. Below are several resources in and around the city for finding housing. It is wise to look into these options early in order to be prepared for living costs and housing application deadlines. We recommend exploring your options at the time of application or soon after simply to plan ahead.

- Grace DC
- Thompson Markward Hall \(Christian women's home on Capitol Hill\)
- The Heritage Foundation
- McLean Bible Church Classifieds
- American University
- Washington Intern Student Housing \(WISH\)
- Catholic University
- The George Washington University
- Cap Stay Intern Housing
- Olympus Housing
- ApartmentGuide.com offers a specialized rental property search tool exclusively for the Washington D.C. area. The tool allows users to search for nearby properties based on desired price range, bedrooms, bathrooms, pet-friendliness, type of renter lifestyle, interior features such as laundry and appliances, TV & Internet, parking, leasing options and more.

Many interns choose to rent a room in a group house or from a family. You may want to contact area churches for information on housing opportunities.
